		for smaller teams.
4. PROBLEMS / PAINS + ITS FREQUENCY [PR] Inconsistent Tone across Channels: High frequency (Daily) – Marketing messages sound fragmented across blogs, social media, and emails. Time-Consuming Copywriting: High frequency (Daily) – Hours spent manually tweaking generic AI outputs to match specific brand guidelines. Onboarding Delay: Medium frequency (Weekly) – New content creators take days to understand and replicate an established brand persona.	9. PROBLEM ROOT / CAUSE [RC] Generic Large Language Models (LLMs) are trained on general internet data and lack built-in persistent memory for individual brand guidelines, voice nuances, and specific formatting preferences.	7. BEHAVIOR + ITS INTENSITY [BE] Behavior: Heavy reliance on copying/pasting prompt templates and manually proofreading AI copy against static brand documents. Intensity: High – Takes up 30–40% of a marketer's daily workflow.
5. TRIGGERS TO ACT [TR] Customer complaints about confusing or off-brand marketing messages. Scaling campaign requirements that exceed the manual copywriting capacity. Launching a new product or rebranding initiative requiring strict brand consistency.	10. AI Brand Voice Generator: An intelligent web platform that extracts brand tone parameters (vocabulary, sentiment, structure) from sample text uploads and enforces them as persistent system profiles via the Google Gemini API for instant, on-brand content creation.	8. CHANNELS OF BEHAVIOR [CH] Online: LinkedIn, X (Twitter), Slack communities, marketing forums, and web-based SaaS tools.
6. EMOTIONS BEFORE / AFTER [EM] Before: Frustrated,		Offline: Team brainstorming meetings, agency client pitch presentations.

overwhelmed, anxious about brand misalignment, and drained by repetitive manual editing. After: Confident, efficient, relieved, and empowered with effortless, on-brand content generation.
